Art Unit: 1762

1. Claims 1-20 remain in the application.
2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE-3804831 in combination with Ross (4,219,448) or Hanoka (5,698,451) or Amick et al. (5,320,684).

DE-3804831 teaches electroconductive coating composition for manufacturing solar cells. The conductive composition comprises 50-75% by weight of silver (with up to 50% of that being aluminum), 5-15% by weight of thermoplastic polyester resin and from 10-45% weight of an organic solvent. The solar cell is a silicon substrate. The composition is screened on the silicon substrate and fired to form the conductive coating. (abstract)

DE-3804831 fails to teach the coating composition having up to 50% glass particles.

Ross (4,219,448) or Hanoka (5,698,451) or Amick et al. (5,320,684) all teach fabricating contacts for solar cells which incorporate coating compositions which include metal particles, binders, organic vehicles and glass frit. The glass frit being in an amount of up to 50%. (see abstracts). Hanoka (5,698,451) further teaches the binder to be ethyl cellulose (col. 4, line 45).

Therefore, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified DE-3804831 composition with a glass frit as evidenced by Ross (4,219,448) or Hanoka (5,698,451) or Amick et al. (5,320,684) with the expectation of achieving similar success and an improvement in the adherence of the coating composition to the silicon substrate.
